TO J. W. R.

Here is the tribute sent by Rudyard Kipling at the time of the celebration of James Whitcomb Riley's birthday:

By Rudyard Kipling.

Your trail runs to the westward,
And mine to mine own place;
There is water between our lodges,
And I have not seen your face.

But since I have read your verses
'Tis easy to guess the rest—
Because in the hearts of the children
There is neither East nor West.

Born to a thousand fortunes
Of good or evil hap,
Once they were kings together,
Throned in a mother's lap.

Surely they know that secret—
Yellow and black and white—
When they meet as kings together,
In innocent dreams at night.

By a moon they all can play with
Grubby and grimed and unshod—
Very happy together,
And very near to God.

Your trail runs to the westward,
And mine to my own place;
There is water between our lodges,
And you cannot see my face.—

And that is well—for crying
Should neither be written nor seen,
But if I call you Smoke-in-the-Eyes,
I know you will know what I mean.

Capital Is Power

"Whoever has a sixpence is sovereign over all men to the extent of that sixpence; commands cooks to feed him, philosophers to teach him, kings to guard over him—to the extent of that sixpence."—Carlyle.

A bank balance is stored-up power, strength, resource; it gives confidence, security, protection as nothing else does.

Power begins when Saving begins.
